

Your energy management partner

Whether you are an industrial consumer, an energy producer, a mid-streamer or an investor, we provide the energy management solutions you need to optimize and develop your business.

A wide range of expertise to meet your needs

Energy supply

We offer tailor-made gas and electricity supply solutions with the price formula (fixed, average or indexed price on power, gas or oil markets) and the volume pattern (flat, profiled, flexible, weather determined) that suit you best. We also provide turnkey delivery to all your sites in Europe.

Risk management solutions & market access

We help you design and execute bespoke hedging energy strategies, through our 5 platforms on 3 continents—in Paris, Brussels, Rome, Houston and Singapore— and provide expertise on cross markets, products and areas. With our physical, financial and digital market access solutions, manage your risk in a compliant and transparent way.

Project partnership

We offer consulting and financial solutions to your energy projects. From increasing on-site sustainability to generating additional revenue through flexible consumption, we help you to accelerate your energy transition and optimize your energy production.

Asset management

With longstanding expertise in both physical and financial energy markets, we provide you with first-class trading strategies to optimize your flexibility and the value of your assets.

Driving the energy transition

Digital services

We place digital innovation at the heart of our strategy to make sure you get the best energy tools to use our services. Access a growing range of e-services, such as digital platforms, API solutions, web applications and blockchain services to enter energy markets, manage your energy contracts, optimize in real-time the environmental impact of your consumption, etc.

Green services

We are committed to driving the energy transition and we help you develop your own green energy strategy. We offer a wide range of green solutions from demand-side management and power optimization agreements for renewable energy producers, to battery storage services for grid operators and corporate power purchase agreements (PPAs).

Corporate Social Responsibility

We believe that sustainability is good for business and we are committed to upholding human rights and respecting the environment. Through our supply chain due diligence process, we make sure we only do business with stakeholders that meet the same commitments. We work hard to reduce our own carbon footprint and we offer you innovative solutions to help you achieve your own energy transition and meet your sustainability goals.
